ALBERT MUTZ DIES IN CALGARY

Following an illness of two months, Albert Mutz died at his residence, 1442 Thirteenth Avenue West, Calgary, on Monday evening, at the age of 69 years.

Born in Germany, deceased had been in Canada for many years. He was founder of the Fernie-Port Steele Brewery at Fernie. He came to the United States in September, 1884, and to Canada in 1893.

For a number of years he owned and operated a coal mine at Blairmore, being for some years associated therewith with George Scott. In addition to his interest here and at Fernie, Mr. Mutz, a number of years ago, purchased the Imperial hotel at Frank, had same removed in section to Vulcan, where it was re-erected and operated for a number of years by himself. But recently he disposed of his hotel property and relinquished his interest here, deciding to retire, taking up comfortable residence in Calgary.

He is survived by Mrs. Mutz; three daughters, Mrs. A. Anderson, Calgary; Mrs. L. Leverington and Mrs. Roy Ferguson, Vulcan; and three sons, Teddy and Max at Vulcan, and Emil, of Calgary.

The remains will be laid to rest in Burnside cemetery, Calgary, this afternoon, Dr. George W. Kerby officiating.

J. F. RUDNICKI DIES AT FERNIE

J. F. Rudnicki, an old-timer of Fernie, passed away at the Fernie hospital on Saturday morning last.

He had been ill for some time, having suffered a stroke years ago, from which he never wholly recovered.

Mr. Rudnicki was born in Poland and arrived in Fernie from the United States around 1904, securing work with the Trites-Wood Co. shortly after that firm started. He later joined the Home Bank staff, acting as interpreter for the bank's foreign customers. He was with the bank until it closed and since has acted as interpreter and notary public. While connected with the Home Bank, he was largely instrumental in having a branch of that institution opened in Blairmore.

He leaves a wife, in Vancouver; two daughters, Mrs. H. G. Lockheart, of Vancouver, and Mrs. Blake, of Calgary; and two sons, Louis, of Hamilton, Ontario, and Thadus, of New York.

SCOUT NEWS

The Wolf Cubs are making great headway. There are now 36 cubs enrolled, and all are progressing splendidly in their work. They are very conspicuous in their neat and trim uniforms, and great credit is due the parents who very eagerly scratched the few cents weekly to enable their boys to be like others, especially so in view of these hard times, when cash was never so scarce.

Most of the Cubs have passed their tender-paw tests; two have passed their first star, and keen competition exists among the boys as to who can attain the highest stage in efficiency.

In connection with the Scout movement, Lord Willington stated: "The League of Nations had done much, but the Scout movement, a young league of nations, was one of the greatest forces in the world. It will have a vast influence on the future. It is the greatest engine that has yet been devised for the bringing of peace to the world."

The Scout movement binds 42 nations together, and is moulding the characters of three millions or more people, and has moulded three times as many, at least, who have been connected with it. Here we have the foundation of "Peace Throughout The World." Our boys and girls are the future ambassadors to carry this

POT HIM OFF HIS PIPE

Indigestion and Acidity

"A few months ago, I had an attack of indigestion, heartburn and acidity, and had no appetite for meals, especially breakfast. I am a pipe smoker, and for several days I felt so ill I could not even look at my pipe. I decided to try Kruschen Salt. A few days afterwards I found that the heartburn and acidity had gone, and for the last five or six weeks I have been in my usual good health. I can now enjoy my pipe-smoking, and in fact feel about 10 years younger."—H. P.

When your digestive juices fail to flow freely your food lies in the system and ferments, thus causing the distress of indigestion. The "little daily dose" of Kruschen first stimulates the flow of the gastric juices, and then ensures complete, regular and unobstructed elimination of all waste matter every day.

Veteran St. Lawrence River Captain Is Appointed Skipper of the S.S. "Tadoussac"

Beginning his 42nd year as Captain on the St. Lawrence River, Wilfrid Gagne is again named skipper of the s.s. "Tadoussac" in passenger fleet appointments announced by the Canada Steamship Lines.

Born in Point au Pic, Quebec, a short distance from the Manoir Richelieu, Captain Gagne has spent almost his entire life on the St. Lawrence and Saguenay Rivers and is said to know every turn by heart. During the war Captain Gagne's knowledge of the river was put to good effect as he was given the unique and valuable work of piloting submarines from Quebec to Murray Bay, on their way to the sea. The father of eleven children, Captain Gagne is one of the best known residents of Point au Pic.

Another veteran's appointment is also included in the announcement recently by Captain Peter McKay, skipper of the s.s. "Noronic," flagship of the Canada Steamship Lines Northern Fleet, again takes charge of the largest upper lakes liner. Captain McKay last year piloted the "Noronic" when she made her historic cruise through the New Welland Ship Canal, and became the largest passenger steamer ever to have entered Lake Ontario.

A Seed Field On The Farm

Better Wheat Brings More Money To The Farmer
(By H. G. L. Strange)

The easiest money to be made by the Canadian farmer is the premium his grains bring him when these grains are of high quality, as the work and expense of summerfallowing, seeding, harvesting, threshing and hauling is no more for a high quality crop, that commands a high grade and so the best price, than for a low quality crop which brings a lower price because of lower grade. The best Canadian wheat on the world's markets at this moment commands a premium of 17 cents a bushel over the best Argentine or Russian wheat. This is due entirely to the higher quality of Canadian wheat, which quality is due somewhat to the soil and climate of Western Canada, but mainly to the use of that proper variety in each district that will produce marketed grain. This premium for Canadian wheat, which quality is due somewhat to the soil and climate of Western Canada, but mainly to the use of that proper variety in each district that will produce marketed grain. This premium for Canadian wheat, which quality is due somewhat to the soil and climate of Western Canada, but mainly to the use of that proper variety in each district that will produce marketed grain.

variety. A recent survey made by the Searle Grain Company in co-operation with the Dominion Experimental Farms, of wheat being marketed at the country elevator, indicated without a doubt that a large number of farmers are using grades and so good money for themselves, because the crops consisted of a mixture of inferior varieties. Instead of being reasonably true to the one most suitable variety.

The first step is to decide upon the most suitable variety to use. Only the farmer himself with a detailed knowledge of his own farm can make this decision, but it can be said that if Marquis wheat can be ripened, say four years out of five, without being frost-killed, and it will produce a kernel that is clear and not starchy, and so in consequence will grade usually No. 1 Northern, that no other variety should be grown, because under these circumstances Marquis has more money-advertising for the farmer than any other variety.

In some districts, however, early fall frosts often degrade Marquis wheat and in some of the northerly parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan, particularly where the spring is late in growing, Marquis produces a pleiad and starchy kernel that only grades a number 3. Under these circumstances, the farmer should consider an earlier variety or one that will throw a clear kernel, although some are finding that the use of fertilizer with Marquis wheat, opening it from 6 to 8 days earlier, often allows Marquis to escape these early frosts and in many districts also helps to produce a clear kernel.

Three early varieties are recommended—Red Bobs, 222—Reward and Garnet.

Red Bobs 222 is to 7 days earlier than Marquis, yields as high as high in some districts higher, but is as starchy as Marquis and often shatters in a dry fall. In some districts, however, this variety is very popular. Garnet is some ten days earlier than Marquis, gives a bright clean kernel and is almost as high yielding as Marquis, but it has a weak straw and sprouts easily in the stock in a wet fall; the milling and baking values of Garnet are different from those of Marquis, and Garnet flour is slightly yellow. The exact future of the grading of Garnet at this time seems uncertain.

Reward wheat is strongly recommended. It has high milling and baking value quite equal to Marquis. The straw is stiff, it does not shatter nor sprout easily. It contains a little loose smut, which, however, can be controlled, but the yield on the average is lower than that of Marquis or Garnet, although many farmers report that the yield of Reward is much increased when half a bushel more to the acre is needed than is usual with Marquis or Garnet.

"Audible Light" Created

Phonograph Produces Music As Beam From Lamp Hits It

By means of a photo-electric cell, John Bellamy Taylor, consulting engineer for the General Electric Company, demonstrated the creation of "audible light" before a group of scientists at Detroit. He used a silent phonograph and sensitive incandescent lamp to produce what he termed "one of the newest developments in electro-physical research."

In his demonstration, Mr. Taylor brought the music of a stringed orchestra from the phonograph and then silenced it by placing his hand between the lamp and electric cell.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

ISAAC AND HIS WELLS

Golden Text: "A soft answer turneth away wrath: but a grievous word stirreth up anger."—Proverbs 15:1. Lesson: Genesis 26:12-25. Devotional Reading: Matthew 5:1-12.

Explanations and Comments.

Isaac's Prosperity and Its Result, verses 12-17.—A hundredfold was the yield which Isaac obtained from his sowing, and so great were his possessions in flocks and herds, and so great was his household, that the Philistines envied him. Their envy led them to fill up the wells which Abraham his father had dug, and Abimelech, their king, ordered Isaac to leave. Without wells Isaac could not support his livestock, and although, as his enemies admitted, he was stronger than they he would not contend with them but moved on and erected his camp in the Valley of Gerar.

"It used to be a mark of a gentleman that he would instantly retreat on an encroachment on his rights, and pick a quarrel at a moment's notice. Today that would be a mark of ill-breeding. Where education and Christian culture have done their fullest work, there is most patience and gentleness."

Trouble At Gerar, verses 18-21.—Isaac re-dug the wells made by Abraham which the Philistines had stopped up, and called them by the original names. In digging for a new well in the valley he found "a well of springing water," for the underground stream was tapped which flows below the rock through the valley past Hebron and Gerar and Beersheba. Trouble then arose, for the herdsmen of Gerar claimed it. Isaac called it well "Esek," which means "Contention," and patiently dug another well. For that the others contented also, and Isaac called it "Sitnah," which means "Hatred." It is our ignorance of patriarchal life which makes us think it unaccountable that, in those early days, of so many contentions about wells, for on nearer inspection we should find that in their arid regions a well of springing water was a possession of inestimable value. Hence we later find Moses, in magnifying the Divine bounty to the children of Israel, among other parts of the inventory, reckoning up not only "great and goodly cities," but also "wells of water, which they digged not."

Peace At Last, verse 22.—Once more Isaac moved on, and dug another well. This one he called "Rehoboth," which means "Room," for there he found no contention. "Now Abimelech hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land," he declared. Rehoboth was about fourteen miles southwest of Beersheba. Remnants of wells are still in existence.

The Blessing At Beersheba, verses 23-28.—Isaac went on, to Beersheba, and there he had a vision. He heard that he should be blessed for Abraham's sake. "Fear not, for I am with thee," said the voice from the surface of the sea, and Isaac, quietly leaving place after place, felt the deeps of his soul untouched. What was the loss of a well, or ten wells, to him with whom God was, for his portion, his exceeding and long-suffering, great reward.

—E. W. Robertson.

Isaac established his home, and altar dug a well. This is the order in which his activities are recorded, and the order is not without its significance. God came first in his thoughts. "Many people of our time, despite their high civilization, are far behind the humble Hebrew patriarch in the true ordering of their lives." Most of them see only their tent—the circle of their own interests; they have no place for either altar or well. They forget God who should be first in life, and the people of tomorrow who ought to benefit by their sojourn here. Others dig the well, thus providing a social blessing, but they have no place for an altar. The only true life is that which combines, and in the right order—altar, tent, and well."

The Result Of Isaac's Policy Of Non-Resistance, verses 25-33.—Abimelech sought out Isaac at Beersheba, to make with him a treaty of peace, for he said, "We saw certainly that the Lord is with thee." Thus Isaac's patience won the friendship of his enemies.

A soft answer turneth away wrath. Patience is not weakness. He who bears injuries without resentment triumphs in the end. "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth."

Valuable Muskegs Of Western Canada

New Resource That Is Now Creating Widespread Interest

Western Canada, in common with some other places, is waking up to the extent of a new and valuable natural resource in its muskegs. Recent investigations by the Industrial Development Board of Manitoba, with the aid of Mr. A. Anrep, past specialist of the Ottawa Department of Mines, have brought to light many facts regarding the new resource that are occasioning widespread interest, and have revealed vast deposits of considerable extent and value in the north-western Whitehorse.

"Muskeg," according to one authority, is probably the most useful word in the Cree language, and no other language seems to possess a word so comprehensive. It denotes either any kind of bog, or the material contained in a boggy deposit. Previously, people in Western Canada attached no great value to this resource, regarding it as merely a troublesome impediment to transportation, or else as productive only of an inferior sort of fuel. But the studies of the Industrial Development Board, which have taken cognizance of the remarkable exploitation of bogs and moors in European countries, are developing an entirely new attitude toward Western muskegs, until today some authorities regard them as a resource, taking precedence in the industrial scheme to petroleum, rubber and cotton.

We may pause here to set out in brief some of the uses of sphagnum moss, peat, peat moss, peat, peat, etc. They include: insulating material; bedding; agricultural and horticultural purposes; packing for preserving fruit, vegetables, fish and meats; surgical dressings; fuel; litter for stock; wall plaster, etc., etc.

Mr. Anrep, who comes of a family of great scientists, makes the following point regarding it: "On account of its high absorptive powers, from 100 to 200 per cent. of water in moisture (while straw absorbs only three times its weight), and of its acid character, it is one of the best natural sponges, and as an antiseptic and germ-destroying factor, and because of this, it is a great gift of nature, for the use of the people at large."

Very strong claims are made for it as an insulator of heat. It is urged that the use of muskeg in the rural and urban dwellings of Western Canada, it would save vast sums of money.

"We use 110 per cent. more fuel than is necessary," declares Mr. D. C. McArthur, "which is one of the tributes we pay to ignorance."

And Mr. McArthur says further: "In searching for other voluminous records of European bog technique and trade figures, there are no records of a private fortune amassed, but the effects in national well-being are everywhere in evidence."

Peat moss is undoubtedly valuable as stable litter and bedding for horses and dogs. It prevents rot and mouth diseases, keeps the animals healthy and strong, clears stables and fur of dandruff, keeps all in the stables clean and sweet, absolutely free from bacteria and flies. The moss is non-combustible. If dried, it will smoulder, and is easily detected and put out, being therefore much safer than straw.

Poultry-keepers will be particularly impressed with the remarkable cleanliness of peat moss when used as litter in coops. In pens where straw is used, the atmosphere is invariably moist and heavy, with peat it is pure and wholesome, the hens are healthier and cleaner, lay more eggs, and are free of insects and vermin. Single bedding of proper depth will last over six months.

While peat moss is not in itself a fertilizer, it is nevertheless valuable in sandy soils for retaining the humidity of the parts of the soil. It makes a bone meal or other fertilizer, part a good mixture. In the case of peat moss, the mixture worked into it makes it workable and porous. To rhododendrons, azaleas, cypripediums and other plants and other plants, peat moss is beneficial on account of its acidity. On account of its acidity, it also makes an excellent protective covering in stinging bulbs, tubers, or roots for the winter. Carrots and beets have been kept packed and in excellent preservation for over a year in peat moss containing 40 to 45 per cent. moisture. Florists also find it useful in the packing and shipping of flowers.

A fish farm in Northumberland ships fish in long sphagnum plants and has found that after two weeks the fish remain as fresh as when caught from the sea.

An extremely interesting use of sphagnum moss is for surgical dressings. During the Great War, Sir Lauder Brunton, famous English physician, made extensive use of dressings of this sort in Scotland, Ireland and Canada, vast numbers of sphagnum plants for this purpose were collected. Dr. John Bonfield Porter, Department of Mining and Engineering, McGill University, superintended the collection here. The moss is a strong disinfectant and deodorizer, antiseptic, and a non-germ carrier. Its absorptive qualities are remarkable. During the last three years of the war, more than 5,000,000 bandages were used.

This valuable resource, peat moss, is spread practically throughout Canada. In Western Canada, one of the finest deposits occurs about 45 miles east of Winnipeg, near Whitehorse, Manitoba. It is a vast bog system, extending for 18 townships. In quantities of millions of tons, every variety of bog material is available. There are moss-bogs and grass-bogs, litter and peat deposits, muck and humus, high acid peat, and high nitrogen content. The bog system is traversed by three railways and three highways. It is estimated that the Whitehorse system contains an area of 500,000 acres more than 325 million tons of organic material, at the accepted stage of commercial dressings. Along the Hudson Bay Railway, in Northern Manitoba, there are still larger bogs.

Wanton burning and unnecessary drainages are doing away with many valuable peat bogs in Canada. Recently very powerful arguments were made against draining off the natural waters of the West. Experts discussing the drought conditions and lack of rainfall on the prairies. People are now learning that these muskegs are valuable, not only for their peat resources, but as humidifiers of the air.

A vast amount of information on this subject has been assembled by the Industrial Development Board of Manitoba, and efforts are now under way to have the Whitehorse peat resources properly developed.

Too Sick for School

Mrs. Dow Says Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Daughter to Health.

"My daughter was run down in health, took weak spells and could not go to school," writes Mrs. Anna Dow, Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta.

"While visiting her aunt, a friend told her about a little girl in similar condition who had been completely restored to health by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My daughter has since been made the Pills, and they have certainly made her stronger. She has lost that tired, sluggish feeling and has never missed one day's school since September. The Pills also gave her a good appetite; her nerves are better and she has more pep. I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to mothers of daughters with similar troubles."

"Don't let anemia rob your growing daughter of health and vigor. Give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are no temporary relief. They banish the condition by creating new blood, which imparts health, vigor and vitality. Equally good for all run down or nervous conditions. At your druggist's. 50c. 24."

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

—BY—

"The skunk!" muttered Nick wrathfully.

"What's that?"

Claire drew suddenly closer to him, her face blanching. A sound—the light crunching of gravel beneath a footstep—had come to her trained ears.

"Nick! Did you hear?" she breathed.

A look of keen anxiety overspread his face. For himself, he did not care; Adrian Latimer could not hurt him. But Claire—his "golden narcissus"—what might be not inflict on her as punishment if he discovered them together?

The next moment it was all he could do to repress a shout of relief. The steps had quickened, rounded the corner of the alley, and revealed—Jean.

"We're mighty glad to see you," remarked Nick, as she joined them. "We thought you were the devil himself"—with a grin.

"Oh, he's safe for half an hour yet," Jean reassured them. "I asked Tucker—the Latimer's butler, who worshipped the ground Claire walked on—his opinion, and he said, 'You're safe. Otherwise I wouldn't have been looking for you'—amusing. I knew Nick was over here, and Sir Adrian might have followed me."

"You're sure he hasn't?" asked Claire nervously. "He is so cunning—so stealthy."

"Even if he had, you're doing nothing wrong," maintained Jean stoutly. "Everything I do is wrong—in his eyes," returned Claire bitterly.

"That's what makes the misery of it. If I were really wicked, really unfaithful, I should feel I deserved anything I got. But it's enough if I'm just happy for a few minutes with a friend for him to want to punish me, to—to suspect me of any evil. Sometimes I feel as if I couldn't bear it any longer!"

She flung out her arms in a piteous gesture of abandonment. There was something infinitely touching and forlorn about her as she stood there, as though appealing against the hideous injustice of it all, and with a little cry Jean caught her outstretched hands and drew her into her embrace, folding her closely in her warm young arms.

Nick had turned aside abruptly, his face rather white, his mouth working. His powerlessness to help the woman he loved had maddened him.

Meanwhile Jean was crooning little, inarticulate, caressing sounds above Claire's bowed head, until at last the latter raised a rather white face from her shoulder and smiled the small, plucky smile with which she usually managed to confront outrageous fortune.

"Thank you so much," she said with a glint of humour in her tones. "You've been dear, both of you. It's awfully nice to—to let go, sometimes. But I'm quite all right again, now."

"Then, if you are," replied Jean cheerfully, "perhaps you can hear up against the shock of too much joy. We want you to have a day out."

"A day out?" repeated Claire, "what do you mean?"

"I mean we're organizing a picnic to Dartmoor, and we want to fix it so that you can come too. Didn't you tell me that Sir Adrian was going to be away one day this week? Going away, and not returning till the next day?"

Claire nodded, her eyes dancing with excitement.

"Yes—oh, yes! He has to go up to London on business."

"Then that's the day we'll choose. Heaven send it be fine!"

"Oh, how I'd love it!" exclaimed Claire. "I haven't been on the Moor for such a long time."

"And I've never been there at all," supplemented Jean.

"Nick! Nick!" Claire turned to him excitedly. "Did you know of this plan? And why didn't you tell me about it before?"

"He looked at her, a slow smile curving his lips.

"Why, I never thought of it," he admitted. "You see—explanatorily—when I'm with you, I can't think of anything else."

"Nick, I won't have you making 'refused love' to a married woman under my very nose," protested Jean equally. And the shadow of tragedy that had hovered above them a few minutes earlier broke into a spray of cheery fun and banter.

"You seem very gay today."

The cold, sneering tones left suddenly across the gay exchange of jokes and laughter that ensued, and the trio looked up to see the tall, lean, black-clad figure of Sir Adrian standing at the end of the path, awaiting their approach.

To Jean, as to Claire, occurred the analogy of a malevolent spider on the watch. Even the man's physical appearance seemed in some way to convey an unpleasant suggestion of resemblance—his long, thin, sharply-jointed arms and legs, his putty-cool, iced face, a livid mask lit only by a pair of snapping, venomous black eyes, half hidden between pouted lids that were hardly more than hanging folds of wrinkled skin, his long, pointed predatory mouth with its malicious smile. Jean repressed a little shudder of disgust as she responded to his sneering comment.

"We are—quite gay, Sir Adrian. It's a fine day, for one thing, and the sun's shining, and it's very warm. What more do we want?"

"What more, indeed? Except"—bowing mockingly—"the beauty with which a good Providence has already endowed you. You are a lucky woman, Miss Peterson; your cup is full. My wife is not, perhaps—regarding her appalling—quite so beneficently endowed by Providence, so."

He paused, and as the black, pointed eyes beneath the fatty lids detected the slight stiffening of Claire's slender figure, his long, thin lips widened into a sardonic smile.

"Yes, to the brim," he repeated with satisfaction. "That's a husband's duty, isn't it, Mr. Brennan?"—addressing Nick with startling suddenness.

"You should know better than I, Sir Adrian," retorted Nick, "seeing that you have experience of matrimony, while I have none."

"But you have hopes—aspirations, isn't it?" put in Jean suavely. There was an undercurrent of disagreeable suggestion in his tones.

Nick was acutely conscious that his keenest aspiration at the moment was to knock the creature down and jump on him.

"We must find you a wife, eh, Claire? Eh, Miss Peterson?" continued Sir Adrian, rubbing the palm of one bony hand slowly up and down over the back of the other. "I'm sure, Claire, you would like to see so—intimate—a friend as Mr. Brennan happily married, wouldn't you?"

"I should like to see him happy," answered Claire with tight lips.

"Just so—just so," agreed her husband in a quaking, quaking tone as though inwardly cursing her. "Well, get him a wife, my dear. You are such friends that you should know precisely the type of woman which appeals to him."

He nodded and turned to go, gliding away with an odd shuffling gait, and muttering to himself as he went: "Precisely the type—precisely."

As he disappeared from view down one of the branching paths of the shrubbery, an odious little laugh, half chuckle, half snigger, came to the ears of the three listeners.

Claire's face set itself in lines that made her look years older than her age.

"You'd better go," she whispered severely. "We shan't be able to talk any more now that he knows you are here. He'll be hovering round—somewhere."

Jean nodded.

"Yes, we'd better be going. Come along, Nick. And let us know, Claire?"

Allies Of Doctors

High Temperatures From Fever Protect Body Against Disease

Fever, once viewed with alarm, now are listed among the physician's allies by Dr. Robert A. Reimann, of the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Reimann told delegates to the sixteenth annual meeting of the American College of Physicians, the change from the nineteenth century to the twentieth century attitude toward fever, followed much careful experimentation.

High body temperatures were revealed by these experiments, he explained, as a protection against attacks by disease organisms.

The reason he gave in substance: Fever changes the chemistry of the plasma, or body fluids, in blood and tissue. The change increases the viscosity of these fluids, makes them more thick and sticky and increases their power to gather the disease organisms in motionless clumps. Thus bactericidal distribution is restricted.

Canada To Be Envid

Much Better Off In Every Way Than United States

The City of Detroit has reached the same position as Chicago, Philadelphia and New York in finding itself unable to obtain enough money to pay municipal employees and carry on public services.

The fact, but one indication of the rapid descent of the United States from unequalled prosperity to unprecedented economic depression.

No such condition prevails in any of the large Canadian cities, yet New York bankers insist on holding the Canadian dollar at a severe discount. There is proportionately less gold in Canada than there is in the U.S., but it is a fact that there is also proportionately less unemployment.

Approximately one-tenth of the population in Toronto must receive its food at present by means of a House of Industry line-up. But that is far from being as bad as the situation in a Chicago suburb where daily long lines form 'up' at a city dump in search of food.

B.C. Family On Relief Loan Of Bank Balance Long Forgotten

Members of a local family who have been very hard-pressed financially, and dependent on unemployment relief, found an old bank book in a garage trunk. They were advised by a friend to forward it to the bank on the chance that there might be a little balance.

Recently they were advised by the Bank of Commerce branch at Nanaimo that there was $1,290 standing to the credit of one of the elder members of the family who had forgotten about the account.

Britain's Income Tax

One of the amazing features of the British statement is that which discloses the sum which Britons paid in income tax. It amounts to well over $1,000,000,000. One billion dollars for 100 million people! Canada's taxes are high. But last year the total of taxation taken from the British people exceeded $3,500,000,000.

Non-Stop Flight Across Canada

Vancouver Run To Sponsor Flight From Montreal To Vancouver

The Vancouver Sun has announced that it is sponsoring a projected non-stop flight across Canada from Montreal to Vancouver on June 21 next by two Vancouver aviators, R. E. Storer and B. R. Ronald. Refueling contacts are planned at Winnipeg and Calgary.

If successful the flight would be the first non-stop across Canada and the first attempt at refueling in the air for a long-distance hop in the Dominion.

Storer and Ronald plan to leave Vancouver early in May and fly to Montreal by easy stages.

They expect to leave Montreal at 3 o'clock in the morning of June 21, taking advantage of the long daylight hours, to make the flight from dawn to dusk.

Flying westward with the sun they hope to make the distance in 21 hours and land here around 6 o'clock in the evening, Pacific Standard Time.

An additional advantage in flying westward is in avoiding the necessity of taking off at sea level with the long climb over the Rockies.

The air-line distance from Montreal to Vancouver is 2,300 miles. The first stage to Winnipeg is 1,100 miles, where the first refueling would be made around 11 a.m. The next stage, Winnipeg to Calgary, should be completed late in the afternoon, with a final refueling for the hop over the Rockies.

The stated purpose of the flight is "to demonstrate the practicability of a 24-hour mail service across the Dominion."

The plane to be used is a taper-winged, Waco, three-place bi-plane, powered with a 220 horse-power Wright Whirlwind nine-cylinder radial engine with a cruising speed of 125 miles per hour. Extra gasoline tanks are being added to the plane. It will be named "The Vancouver Sun."

A LAMBASTING FOR

PARLIAMENT

(Calgary Daily Herald April 8)

This newspaper has not been alone in condemning the folly of wasting a month in interminable wrangling over the subject of unemployment relief, but it has remained for the Ottawa Journal, a newspaper published only a few blocks away from Parliament Hill, to employ the strongest language in laying the legislators censured.

The Journal declares in the course of a two-thousand word editorial that "Parliament's capacity for folly and futility amounts to a national scandal." It complains that in two months it has done little but make a holy show of itself; it has exhibited such a pathetic sterility of common sense as to make the average Canadian or any believer in representative government blush in humiliation. The Journal refers to the "sham battle on unemployment relief," which it describes as a miserable spectacle of parliamentary leaders apparently more concerned with their own petty notions and vanities and silly insinuations than with the job in hand. It finds Mackenzie King strutting about and possibly fancying himself as a Pym of Hampden, more concerned with counterfeiting constitutionalism than with the business of the country, and it declares the government is almost equally stubborn in silliness. Mr. Bennett must have his "blank cheque" at all costs.

There is much further strong talk.

The Journal says this to Mr. King and Mr. Bennett:

"If they fall realized or suspected what the ordinary man in the streets thinks of their cheap theatricalism of all this whole stupid sham fight, they wouldn't take themselves so seriously. For the man in the street doesn't give a tinker's curse whether relief money is provided by a vote of parliament or by a 'blank cheque'. And neither does the country. The day of hero worshippers in Canada is not now."

ONE-EYED CAR DANGEROUS

How often does the night driver get the impression that he is approaching an advancing motorcycle, only to discover, a few seconds later, that it was another one-eyed highway menace. It is comforting to know that traffic authorities everywhere in Canada are concentrating this year on removing this danger to night driving. Driving with only one light, especially if it is the right-hand one, leaves other drivers in doubt as to the type of vehicle, and on a narrow road is often disastrous. More than that, the driver with a single bulb has an insufficient illumination of the road and the other car's stronger lights, even though not glaring, are often enough to blind him.

The Last Laugh

The Scotchman was showing his American friend round the country. "That's a fine train for ye," he said, pointing to an express which had just appeared out of a tunnel.

"Sure," agreed the American, "but we've got trains twice as big as that in the States."

The Scotchman was silent for a while. "That's a fine building for ye," he said. "What dae ye think o' it?"

"Say," laughed the American, "that's nothing. We've got hundreds of buildings bigger and better than that."

"Aye," returned the Scotchman, "I expect ye have. That's an asylum."

In a second the taxi disappeared in the distance.

The Stand of the Striking Miners of the Crows' Nest Pass

WHAT WE ARE STRIKING FOR

During the course of our strike, the coal operators, through the press and the various other means at their disposal, have created the opinion that the miners are responsible for conducting an unjustified strike.

They are trying to make the impression that this strike is purely a political strike, and the deadlock that exists between the coal miners and the operators, in Coleman, Blairmore and Bellevue, is because, the miners insist upon the coal operators recognizing the Mine Workers' Union of Canada, which is affiliated to the Workers' Unity League.

The operators state in the press that they are not for the worsening of working conditions of the miners. On the above basis they seek to turn all opinion against the strikers.

If the above is so, then there would be no deadlock and the strike would be and can be settled at any time. The coal operators in Coleman, on March 16th, told the negotiation committee that there would be a small wage cut. We know that the coal operators of Western Canadian Collieries, Blairmore and Bellevue, came out openly for the laying off of fifty men in each mine. The strike was started in all mines due to the operators, and not the men, breaking their agreement, and virtually forcing the miners to strike. Today, while they say that this strike is purely political, it is they that make it so. They demand first of all that the miners give up the right to organization; they refuse to negotiate with the committee elected by the miners, and want to take away from the men the right to elect whatever committee they wish to represent them.

We never asked the coal operators to recognize the Mine Workers' Union of Canada, nor do we ask for the check-off, or the closed shop.

WE ARE FIGHTING FOR NO WAGE CUTS, NO LAYOFFS, FOR THE RIGHT OF ALL WORKERS TO BELONG TO WHATEVER ORGANIZATION THEY WISH.

The coal operators have stopped all negotiations at present, and declare they will have nothing to do with the miners unless the men change their committees and renounce the Mine Workers' Union of Canada. This condition we cannot and will not accept. We will fight to the last ditch for the right of the miners to belong to whatever organization they wish.

Above we stated our position. The operators charge us with being in a political strike, but it is they that are making it so. They place in the forefront the question of men renouncing a particular organization as the first condition before negotiating. We put in the forefront our economic demands, and we insist on the right to organize, that the men in all mines shall be free to belong to whatever organization they please.

We demand that there be no wage cuts, no layoffs, and that the operators recognize the committee elected by the men, in every mine.

We understand the operators' maneuver in trying to smash the right of the workers to organize, to denounce unionism. The operators wish to establish such conditions in all mines and put through wage cuts and layoffs and prevent the men from being allowed to act collectively. Therefore they are only pulling the old "red herring" across the trail, and shouting "Red Union." We are determined to fight against the operators choosing our committees, which are to speak for us.

We are determined to stop the operators' blacklisting our active comrades because of their union activities, by laying them off, and then, as Mr. Vissac, manager of the Blairmore and Bellevue mines, declares, they will not be able to be in any union committee or to be sent by the union.

We are against layoffs, unless adequate provision is made for maintaining the level of subsistence. We will not give up the right to organization, or allow the operators to interfere with the committees that we elect.

We will fight to the last ditch against any wage cuts, layoffs, and for the right to organize; and these are the true issues of this strike, and no others.

An eminent doctor was in the witness box giving evidence on behalf of the prosecution. Counsel for the defence looked in his direction: "Doctors sometimes make mistakes," he remarked to the court.

"And so do lawyers," the medical man observed tartly.

The court began to take more interest in the proceedings, and eagerly awaited the next rally.

"Doctors' mistakes," said the K.C. very deliberately, "are frequently buried six feet under the ground."

"Quite so," agreed the other. "But a lawyer's mistakes often swing in the air, you know."

We cannot accept any further cutting down of our earnings by a wage cut. Already our wages are so low that we cannot maintain ourselves in any kind of decency. During the past years, by various means, i.e., short time work, etc., our earnings have already brought our level of existence down to such a point that we cannot permit it to go any lower.

We will not be driven down to the level of subsistence. We will not give up the right to organization, or allow the operators to interfere with the committees that we elect.

We will fight to the last ditch against any wage cuts, layoffs, and for the right to organize; and these are the true issues of this strike, and no others.

A Statement by Walter P. Chrysler:

In the NEW PLYMOUTH we have achieved more than I had ever dared to hope for. If you had told me two years ago that such a big, powerful, beautiful automobile could be sold at the prices we have announced... I'd have said it was absolutely impossible.

I have spent my life building fine cars, but no achievement in my career has given me the deep-down satisfaction that I derive from the value you get in this 1932 PLYMOUTH. To me, its outstanding feature is FLOATING POWER.

We already know how the public feels about this, last summer it was news, but today it is an established engineering achievement. In my opinion you will find the NEW PLYMOUTH the easiest riding car you have ever driven.

Raking fish out of the water is actually taking place in Saanich Inlet and at other points along the Pacific coast; so great has been the run of herring. A story sent out says that fish were being scooped out of the coves and stowed away in gunny sacks by the natives. The herring run is so heavy that the fighting salmon, usually associated with Saanich waters, has temporarily been displaced. In fact, the crush was so great that it was difficult to navigate a boat.

Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P. for Southeast Grey, urged in the house of commons last Thursday night that the inheritance of large fortunes should not be allowed. SCHOOL TEACHER WINS TEST CASE

School teachers will be vitally interested in a decision recently handed down by the appellate division of the Alberta supreme court in the test case of John Steele-Smith, a school teacher, against the Acme school district.

The court ruled that the new provision of the July, 1930, amendment to the school act was retroactive. In other words it held that even though teachers were employed under a contract complying with the old act, their dismissal must be made in accordance with the provision of the 1930 amendment, which provides that permission of the school inspector must be granted to make dismissal legal.

Previously all that had been required was 30 days notice to the teacher following opportunity for him to discuss cause for dismissal with the trustees.

Steele-Smith was dismissed by the Acme school board in June, 1929, under terms of the contract which was drawn according to the old act. He held that this was illegal, since the new act imposed a new requirement that had not been fulfilled, and entered claim for $50 against the school district.

Mr. Justice Ewing upheld his claim, allowing the damages.

The school district entered appeal from the judgment, but the appellate division upheld the trial judge in his decision, ruling that the inspector's permission was necessary even in contracts under the old act. —Lethbridge Herald.

Balanced Budgets

The news is flashed around the world that Great Britain which, only a few months ago, was in dire financial straits, has balanced its budget. It was accomplished by the adoption of rigid economies on the one hand and the imposition of heavier taxation on the other hand.

The United States with a current deficit of over two billions of dollars, is engaged in the task of trying to find a way to balance its budget. Here too, the imposition of new and heavier taxation is being considered as the only way out, with economies in administration receiving less attention than in Great Britain.

The Government of Canada, and the Governments of the various Provinces of Canada, are all engaged in the same work, trying to balance their budgets and the same remedies are being applied, reductions in services to the people coupled with heavier taxation levies.

All municipal bodies and boards of school trustees are likewise employed, but, in the case of these minor governing bodies, more effort is being applied in the reduction of expenditures, and less recourse is being had to the imposition of new taxes; in fact, most municipal councils and school boards are striving to reduce taxation.

But what of the individual citizen? He is in the same predicament as governments. He is confronted with greatly decreased income, or none at all, as a result of unemployment or failure of his business to produce the revenues formerly forthcoming and to which he and his family have been accustomed. But the individual does not possess the power to tax, and in these present days he cannot develop new sources of income. If, therefore, he is to balance his budget, and thus avoid bankruptcy, there is only one thing he can do—that is, cut expenditures. Most people have already done so, some to the extreme limit that it is possible to go, others not quite so far. And the ability of the individual citizen to keep within his income is being made more and more difficult by reason of the steadily increasing taxes, which constitute a first charge upon his income.

Out of these financial difficulties, at least one good is developing. The individual citizen, who as a taxpayer is the final source of supply for all governments, is beginning to take a keener, more intelligent interest in the administration of his business by all governmental bodies. When times were fairly prosperous and taxes comparatively light—at least in his more prosperous circumstances he was able to meet them without much trouble—the average citizen gave little heed to where governmental policies and expenditures were leading. He kept on demanding more and more in the way of public services without fully realizing that, in the final analysis, he must pay for them. Now he finds that he must do the paying, and, further, that he must do without some of the services to which he has become accustomed, because he and his fellow taxpayers can no longer afford to maintain them.

Whatever may be said for or against the Russian experiment in government, at least this can be said for it; that in no country in the world, perhaps, have the masses of the people developed quite as alert an interest in their government, its policies, methods and acts. Every Russian today is almost forced to take an interest in the national policies and work of his government. He is being made to realize that he is a cog in that machine, small it may be, but important, and he must do his part.

If, as the outcome of the attempt to balance budgets throughout Canada, and elsewhere, people become more government-minded, more watchful of what their governments are doing, and, at election times, less easily swayed by appeals to petty local interests, racial prejudices and religious passions, then there will be great gain to the country as a result of the bitter experiences we are now undergoing. If the lesson is learned, and taken to heart, that as citizen-tax payers we should apply that same hard business sense to making our decisions at the ballot box that we make in the ordinary everyday business transactions in which we engage, if, in a word, we balance our judgments as citizens and electors, as well as our budgets, then a great future and, it is to be hoped, lasting gain will result from our present difficulties and financial embarrassments.

Blind Man Is Successful Commercial Traveller In Australia
 Of all the work possible for a blind person surely that of a commercial traveller has most difficulties.

Yet news comes from Australia of a man who, though he lost his sight at the age of four, now travels to every town in Western Australia, as the representative of a large firm in Perth.

Before taking on this work Mr. Harold Ackland passed the matriculation at 19, and won a University Arts degree at 23. The Braille Society paid his fees, and his members made up for the lack of text books by copying out for him by hand, pages and pages in Braille, and also reading and dictating to him.

Mr. Ackland hoped to take up Law, but this was not possible, and he started his present work. Now he is known to every railway official on the line, has a cheery greeting for them all, and is one of the happiest and busiest men in Western Australia.

School Readers In Saskatchewan To Be Provided To School Districts
 School readers in Saskatchewan in the next term will be provided to the school districts through the government offices in Regina, and will become the property of the school districts, and not of the pupils as customary in the past. Where parents object to their children using a reader previously in use by some other child, they will have the option of purchasing readers for their own children, according to the decision of the council.

Care Of Canada's Veterans

Cost To The Country Is In The Neighborhood Of $35,000,000 Annually
 Care of Canada's veterans of the Great War costs this country in the neighborhood of $35,000,000 annually, of which the largest item is the $19,000,000 paid out in war pensions. Relief to unemployed war pensioners, grants to veterans whom advancing years and sicknesses, not directly attributable to war service have removed from the labor market, and other expenditures connected with the care and examination of pension applicants and ex-soldier patients raise the amounts spent as a direct result of the war to the $35,000,000 mark.

Pension payments are graduated, first in respect of disability, and second in respect of the former rank of the pensioner. Consideration is also had for the married or unmarried state of the pensioner. For example, a private soldier, married, with two dependent children and awarded a pension for 100 per cent. disability, receives $127.00 a month. This amount is made up as to $75 for the disability, $25 for the wife, $15 for the first child, $12 for the second. An additional $10 a month is paid for each additional dependent child.

This scale is stationary up to the rank of lieutenant, from then on, it is graduated higher.

Prominent Military Man Dead

General John Hughes Dies At Bowmanville, Ont. At Advanced Age

General John Hughes, long a prominent figure in military and agricultural circles, and son of an illustrious family, died at Bowmanville, Ont., recently, aged 82. His health had been failing for more than a year.

Brother of the late Sir Sam Hughes and Gen. W. St. Pierre Hughes, he ceased saw valorous service with the Midland battalion in the Northwest Rebellion of 1885. He was present at the operations against the bawdy band of Chief Big Bear, and was mentioned in despatches, being awarded a medal with clasp. Later he rose to the command of the 48th regiment.

General Hughes was appointed to command the Sixth Infantry Brigade in March, 1909. Two years later he was transferred to the command of the Fourth Brigade, Second Infantry Division.

In honor of his long connection with Canadian militia he was elected president of the Infantry Association of the Third Division in 1911.

General Hughes found time in later life to take a leading part in the agricultural, educational and commercial affairs of the community where he resided.

With 100 burly Costa Rica soldiers as guards a group of Pacific Northwest treasure hunters are on Cocos Island attempting to locate supposedly fabulous wealth buried there by buccaners and pirate chiefs.

The party consists of 24 men, headed by Col. J. E. Leckie of Vancouver.

Information of the group's activities was received here by Ralph Lomen, president of the company which owns the "Silverwave," a small vessel by the party in its voyage to the island, 300 miles west of Costa Rica.

The letter from Captain Edred Tansen, skipper of the "Silverwave," said the Costa Rican soldiers were sent to see that their government found a fair division of any treasure gets, said to be one-third.

Reductions In Ocean Travel

Cunard and Anchor Lines Announce Low Rates To Europe

The Cunard and Anchor Lines announce drastic reductions in rates for travel to Europe effective immediately. The reductions will be made in all classes of travel from First Class to Third Class. A reduction of 20 per cent. will be made on all First Class, Cabin and Tourist Class rates to Europe. In Third Class, the rates which are already extremely low, have been further reduced by 10 per cent. The reductions will apply to all services of the Cunard and Anchor Lines between the United States, Canada and Europe and to all their ships, including the three Express Liners, "Beren-garia," "Aquitania," and "Mauretania."

In addition, the usual "Summer Season" increase has been dispensed with, the new low rates applying all year around. Thus, in effect passengers will be paying as much as 40% less than previously in the summer season. Some idea of the size of these reductions may be obtained from a comparison of the new minimum rates for various classes and steamers. The "Aquitania" and "Beren-garia" formerly $725 First Class in the summer season is reduced to $200. The "Mauretania" formerly $258 is now $188. Cabin rates for such steamers as the "Francis" and "Gladstone" formerly $155 to England and $160 to France, are down to $124 to England and $128 to France. For the "Laconia," "Scythia," "Samarra," the rates are now $122 to British ports and $127 to France.

Cabin steamers of the "A" type, such as the "Aurania," "Albatross," "Albatross," formerly $135 to England and $140 to France, now take a rate of $108 one way, and $200 round trip to England, and $113 one way, and $210 round trip to France. Tourist Class rates in the Aquitania, and "Beren-garia," formerly $122.50 to England, and $132.50 to France, are now $98 to England, and $108 to France one way, and $173 to England, and $178 to France round trip. Tourist rates in cabin steamers are as low as $84 to England.

Memorial Scholarship

M. E. Manning Of University Of Alberta Will Go To Geneva

Award of the Elizabeth Inrie Memorial Scholarship to M. E. Manning, student at the University of Alberta, has been announced by Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the university. The scholarship will permit Manning to spend the summer at the Geneva School of International Studies, and later in attendance at the assembly of the League of Nations as an observer.

It is given by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Inrie in order that a student may have the opportunity to study international political and economic affairs at first hand. The student selected has one more year to study before graduation in law. He is western vice-president of the Canadian Federation of University Students.

Protect Bacon Prices

U.F.O. To Present Programme To Imperial Conference

The United Farmers of Ontario will draft a programme for presentation by Hon. Mr. Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, to the Imperial Conference, dealing with matters, that are of special interest to the farming community. The U.F.O., as large manufacturers of butter, will seek some assistance in the exportation of their product which has won a place second to none in the dairy world and at prices that will stand the test of competition.

The U.F.O. has seven factories in Ontario which the organization owns. And two in which they have a substantial interest. The output of these plants is approximately 7,500,000 pounds a year, and of this total over 1,000,000 pounds is made at the Toronto plant.

Some protest will be made against the fluctuation in bacon prices while the price for live hogs remains the same and at the bottom. This has aroused suspicion in the minds of the United Farmers that the packers have a hand in the manipulation of prices on the British market. Some assistance will be asked by livestock men for the export of Ontario hogs to Great Britain which will relieve the Ontario farmer from the independence of the Ontario packing plants.

In the matter of grain shipments farmers are not so much concerned, but with livestock and dairy product it is different. Ontario hopes to receive the assistance of the United Farmers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, in their efforts to secure better conditions for the export of pork products, livestock, cheese and butter.

Boost Fishing Industry

Found That Halibut Liver Oil Can Take The Place Of Cod Liver Oil

Halibut fishermen of British Columbia are benefiting by the research of two large laboratories in the United States which have discovered that halibut liver oil is as high in vitamins content as cod liver oil, it is stated. As a result, two prominent pharmaceutical firms are manufacturing halibut liver oil from Pacific coast halibut. Each 10,000 pound catch of halibut brings nearly $250 additional revenue to fishermen, an amount gratefully received in these days of low fish prices.

FARMERS WILL MEET TO DISCUSS ECONOMIC PLIGHT

Winnipeg, Man.—Arrangements are already under way for a conference of western Canadian farm organizations and government with a view to preparing submissions for the Imperial Economic Conference. The meeting will be held in Regina, June 8, and arises out of a resolution passed by the Saskatchewan legislature.

Sponsored by the Premier of Saskatchewan, Hon. J. T. M. Anderson, and his ministers, the gathering as at present planned will consider only the point of view of western agriculture. The provinces of Alberta and Manitoba will be invited to send representatives.

Whether a broadening-out of the Regina conference to include agricultural interests of all provinces which would carry out the suggestion of an all-Canada meeting advanced by Onésime Gagnon in the House of Commons, would be considered could not be learned. In general, however, it would not likely meet with much opposition.

Advisory Committee On Research Work

To Give Direction To Scientific Agriculturalists Throughout Canada

Winnipeg, Man.—Creation of a new advisory committee on agricultural research to co-ordinate and give direction to the work of scientific agriculturalists throughout Canada was announced Thursday, April 20, by Dr. H. M. Torg, chairman of the National Research Council. He said authority for setting up the committee had been given by the Dominion Government and the personnel would be announced shortly.

The new national committee will be representative of the research institutions of Canada, including the agricultural research departments of the Dominion Government. It will meet annually or oftener to review general problems, recommend methods of attack and develop for the benefit of the proper authorities a picture of the agricultural situation.

Designed as a further step to secure co-operation among research organizations, Dr. Torg expects the committee without increasing costs will enlarge the output of scientific research in Canada. He predicted the co-operative plan the national research council has been promoting during the last 10 years would increase the results of research by 30 per cent.

As an instance of the benefits of co-ordinating research work, he said the results now reported in connection with wheat rust might have been delayed for 20 years without the co-ordinating efforts of the associate committee, on field crop diseases.

Mine Shaft Extended Into Saskatchewan

Flin Flon Development Should Encourage Mining In Province

Regina, Sask.—The shaft of the huge Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company Mine at the Flin Flon now extends over the Saskatchewan border, according to Major J. Barnett, Deputy Minister of Natural Resources for the Province. Hitherto all the mining for copper, zinc and gold which has been done has been on the Manitoba side.

Major Barnett has returned from a visit to the northland and at the Hudson Bay Junction held conference with field men of the Department on forest fire and other work to be carried out in the north this season.

The extension of the shaft over the Saskatchewan border, the subsequent mining, should encourage smaller mines to start up in the opinion of Major Barnett. The presence of the $30,000,000 plant of the mining company will enable the small miner in Saskatchewan to use the facilities in processing the raw material.

The mine is now working the full 24 hour shift, and there is considerable activity at that point.

Would Pool Railway Operations

Operating Board To Run The Two Systems Suggested By Conservative Members

Ottawa, Ont.—Pooling of the operations of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways, with a resultant saving of possibly $80,000,000 a year, was the suggestion thrown out by the Conservative members of the House of Commons. The appointment of an operating board to run the two systems as one, with consequent elimination of waste and duplication, was held up as a possible temporary solution of the serious transportation problem which Canada is faced. While operations would be pooled, the roads would remain as distinct entities. The properties would stay just as they are today.

J. T. Hackett (Conservative, Standstead) made the suggestion. He declared parliament must "stem the gush of financial life of this country" by grasping any opportunity to solve the problem. His proposal, he asserted, was merely temporary, and he expressed hope that the transportation commission would have some beneficial remedies to offer.

Police Watching Border

To Prevent Unemployed In States From Entering Canada

Ottawa, Ont.—Immigration and customs officials of the Dominion Government with members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are closely co-operating to prevent the unemployed of the United States from entering Canada.

Provisions of the Immigration and Labor acts will be applied in a strict manner to job seekers who attempt illegal entry into Canada. Some months ago an order-in-council, especially dealing with contract labor, was passed. These provisions, which will likewise be rigidly enforced, are aimed to prevent the entry of people who come to this country under a contract of employment or to negotiate for employment.

Perjury Charge Dismissed

Quebec, Que.—The charge of perjury preferred against Capt. J. E. Bernier, widely known Canadian explorer and navigator, following a complaint made by Raoul Harvey, a seaman, was dismissed by Magistrate Ferdinand Roy recently. Harvey claimed the captain perjured himself when called to testify before the Dominion wreck commissioner's inquiry into the sinking of the s.s. Guide, in 1923.

Trade Treaty With Cuba

Ottawa, Ont.—The Canadian Government is considering entering into a reciprocal trade treaty with Cuba with a view to creating a market for Canadian potatoes. This information was contained in an answer of the secretary of state in the House of Commons to a question of Oscar Boudanger (Liberal, Bellechasse). A request to hasten the treaty was received from a group of farmers of New Brunswick.

Ottawa, Ont.—A large delegation of ice cream manufacturers waited upon members of the government with a request for removal of the six per cent. sales tax on their product, provided in the budget before the House of Commons.

Hidden Explosives

Moisture Saves Workmen From Death When Hammer Strikes Dynamite

Victoria, B.C.—Fifty sticks of dynamite, with a handful of detonators, have been taken from the middle of the new Mount Douglas road by Sanich workmen and destroyed.

Only the heavy downpour of rain which marked the week-end saved the men from being blown up when sources for the Province. Hitherto all the mining for copper, zinc and gold which has been done has been on the Manitoba side.

The dynamite was buried six inches below the surface of the gravel pit at the crest of the hill. The condition of the sack indicated that the explosives had been hidden about eight months ago, at the time when Sanich was carrying out extensive clearing operations on the roadway.

GIVE RESULTS OF RUST-RESISTANT WHEAT TESTS

Winnipeg, Man.—Varieties of rust-resistant wheat which have been tested so far for milling and baking qualities appear to be quite satisfactory in that respect. L. H. Newman, Dominion Cerealist, told members of the associate committee on field crop diseases of the National Research Council, at the second session here of their annual meeting.

The committee is considering the preparation of a statement following this meeting showing the results of tests of rust-resistant wheat developed by the various organizations co-operating in the effort to place such a wheat in farmers' hands. "Thirteen varieties of this wheat used in the experiment described to the meeting by Dr. C. H. Goulden, of the Winnipeg rust laboratory, show good results in the length of its straw, in its weight, in its yield per acre, and in the number of days it takes to mature."

Dr. F. J. Greeney, one of the laboratory, reported it had been proved sulphur dust will protect grain from the attacks of rust, although it will not help a plant which has already been infected. He said efficient methods of spreading the sulphur dust had been developed, but they might not come into general practical use here because of economic conditions.

The accurate identification of fungi is an important step in rust research, and a difficult one. Prof. A. H. Buller, of the University of Manitoba, told the members. He suggested better library facilities here would greatly aid the work.

Dr. O. S. Aamodt, University of Alberta, outlined for the committee progress which has been made in testing certain varieties of drought-resistant wheat brought to this country from Russia in 1928. Emphasizing the importance of this branch of research in breeding, he urged further intensive study through practical field tests be conducted in the varieties which had already been brought down to the segregating generations, and said the cost of equipment for the work would not exceed $500.

SOVIET FLOT VICTIM

Charging that Soviet Russia is out to ruin him and to destroy public confidence in his enterprises, Sir Henry Detering, British oil magnate, recently told how Soviet agents by a two-year campaign of lies have attempted to depreciate the value of stock exchange shares. Economic Conference

Parliament To Discuss Matters Pertaining To Important Event

Ottawa, Ont.—Parliament will probably hear a discussion on the Imperial Economic Conference shortly. When the vote of $250,000 to defray expenses of the Empire gathering comes before the Commons, R. Hon. B. Bennett is prepared to set aside a day for members who may wish to give their views, and may himself make a brief statement.

With definite assurances that all parts of the Empire will be represented by prominent delegates at the opening of the conference here on July 21, the "spade" work is being pushed forward. Committees, sub-committees and inter-departmental organizations are hard at work.

Under the supervision of the cabinet and a cabinet sub-committee, departmental committees are gathering essential information and making preparations. The agenda itself has not been completed. When that stage has been reached, the question whether or not a completed agenda will be laid before the House will depend on what is thought desirable after consultation with all the governments concerned.

Boost Gasoline Price

Toronto, Ont.—One cent per gallon increase in the price of gasoline, effective throughout the greater part of the Dominion, April 21st, was announced here by the Imperial Oil Company. The increase, said by the company to be necessary to offset in part a jump in crude oil prices, affects Ontario, most of Quebec province, and Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta.

Delegates From Russia

Ottawa, Ont.—Extended an invitation to participate in the Fifth Pacific Science Congress, scheduled to meet in Canada in 1933, Russia has accepted and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics will be represented by at least ten official delegates. The congress sessions will be held in Vancouver and Victoria, B.C.

Cattle Export Problems

Will Probably Come Before Imperial Economic Conference

Ottawa, Ont.—Senator Arthur Meighen, Government leader in the Upper House, announced that problems facing cattle exporters would be brought to the attention of the chairman of the committee arranging for the Imperial Economic Conference which meets in Ottawa in July.

Canadian cattle encountered many restrictions when entering the British market, said Senator D. E. Riley, introducing he subject. Nothing would help Canadian agriculture more than the improving of the live cattle trade.

Canadian cattle encountered less favorable conditions in the British market than Irish cattle, he said. A total of 26,000 cattle crossed the ocean last year but the trade could be developed to a greater extent than this, if restrictions were modified. The best opportunity to review the entire trade would be at the conference table.

Organization of the conference agenda was under the supervision of the cabinet said Senator Meighen. Memoranda were being prepared on tariffs, exchange, currency and other topics and he would undertake to bring to the attention of the government the important subject of the cattle trade.

U.S. ATTACKS ON WHEAT POOL ARE REFUTED

Ottawa, Ont.—That the co-operative wheat pool movement in Canada has been selected by propagandists in the United States and improperly cited by them in their fight against the co-operative movement in that country is a matter of regret, and ought not to be allowed to pass without answer. This is the opinion of Hon. H. M. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, expressed in a statement made public here.

Referring to articles published in Chicago and elsewhere in the United States to the effect that Canadian wheat pools had accomplished the ruin of Canadian wheat farmers' who were threatening to "strike against taxation" and talking "secession," Mr. Stevens declared that Canadian wheat pool members still had faith in their co-operative organization and were shipping a large portion of their grain through pool elevators. Furthermore, no losses have been sustained by farmer members of the wheat pools other than that they were disappointed at not obtaining further sums for their 1929 wheat sold through the pools owing to the sudden drop in prices.

"The profits of farmer-owned handling facilities have always been very large, and no doubt will rapidly repay the advances (made by the prairie governments) without any loss to the governments concerned," said the minister.

"The situation in respect to the wheat pools in the three prairie provinces," said Mr. Stevens, "is substantially as follows:

"Three pools, previously operating under a contract with their grower members, have released those members from the operation of that contract. The holdings of the wheat pools as pools are gradually being liquidated by the pools themselves as market opportunities afforded, being only assisted by the Dominion Government in their financing. Pools, however, are operating their subsidiary elevator companies independently which are still solvent and are in no danger of liquidation. Certain losses amounting to some $22,000,000 were sustained by the pool on the 1929 crop, the advance payment to their farmer members proving excessive in view of the slump in the market. These losses were guaranteed by the various provincial governments, according to the provincial interest, in approximately the following proportions: Alberta, $8,500,000; Saskatchewan, $13,000,000; Manitoba, $2,500,000. The provincial governments have made good these amounts to the banks. They have negotiated agreements with the pools for the repayment, which will be done out of the earnings of the subsidiary elevator companies and other assets of the pools. To secure themselves, the various provincial governments have taken a first charge over the assets of the pools, namely elevators, terminals, etc., of an approximate value of some $30,000,000. No losses were sustained by the farmer members once they had the disappointment of not obtaining further sums for their wheat sold through the pools. This, of course, is a contractual liability.

RAISING TARIFF WALL AROUND THE BRITISH ISLES

London, England.—The tariff wall around Great Britain, once the leading exponent of free trade, was doubled in height today.

The imports duty advisory committee recommended that a total duty of 20 per cent. be imposed on nearly every type of manufactured goods imported into the country. The new rates became effective after midnight, April 25. The general tariff law now in effect assesses imports 10 per cent.

The advisory committee authorized under the general tariff act to recommend changes which are put into effect by order of the treasury, described the new tariff policy thus: "For most manufactured goods, an additional duty of 10 per cent. making 20 per cent. in all. On a limited number of others, for which a lower rate seems appropriate, total duty will be 15 per cent. and for certain articles of luxury or semi-luxury character, total duties will be 25 or 30 per cent."

When the new rates become effective, the orders issued under the Abnormal Importations Act, which imposed an ad valorem duty of 50 per cent. on certain classes of goods, will be revoked.

The advisory committee treated iron and steel in a separate category, putting a total duty of 33½ per cent. on semi-rolled steel for a period of three months.

Increased duties in imports to Great Britain, recommended by the tariff advisory committee, will not apply to goods from Canada or other parts of the British Commonwealth, owing to the government's decision that empire goods shall not be subject to duty at least until after the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference next July.

B.C. Placer Mining

Would Put Unemployed To Work

Victoria, B.C.—Plans for putting unemployed men to work washing gold in the streams of British Columbia are being shaped at conferences here between the government and officials of the mines department. Under a scheme discussed in a general way at the recent unemployment conference at Ottawa, it is proposed that unemployed men, who desire to do so, shall be given grubstake to enable them to carry on placer operations. They would repay the cost of their maintenance and keep any amounts which they make over and above that.

Mines department officials believe that in many parts of the province men working in small numbers could make enough to support themselves, and many, with luck, could make reasonable wages.

New Zealand Will Censor All Messages

Wellington, N.Z.—A censorship of messages sent abroad will be instituted by the government in order to prevent alarmist reports concerning possible recurrence of disorders in Auckland or elsewhere being cabled overseas. The government has decided to enforce the provisions of the postal regulation which gives this power.

Meanwhile both houses of parliament have passed the government's bill seeking emergency powers to deal with disturbances such as those at Auckland when mobs of unemployed got out of hand and did considerable property damage and looting.

An old Scotchman, very drunk, was on his erratic way home, when, taking a short cut through the kirkyard he fell into an open grave and went to sleep. In the morning he was awakened by a rag-and-bone merchant blowing a bugle. Starting up out of the grave, the old Scot muttered: "Gosh, this is a pair turnout for this parish."

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. H. Halton received word that their son, Mr. S. P. Halton, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada at Laval, Alta, had undergone an operation for appendicitis and was in a critical condition. Mrs. Halton left immediately and it is now believed that the crisis has been passed successfully.—Pincher Creek Echo.

Brown, who opened the office in 1912, has been transferred to Rocky Mountain House to the Clearwater Reserve. Mr. Taylor, his secretary, goes with him. The Crownest and Bow River reserves have been amalgamated, with headquarters in Calgary, under the supervision of A. G. Smith.

Judging by the following letter received by a local party, the bottom has gone out of considerable of the stock market. It reads in part: "We have been advised that you are now holding stocks in the Canadian Can Co., the United Gas and Consolidated Water Works. There are no fogs, comic butlers, or unnecessary umbrellas in scenes of London that are included in James Whales' picture! The well known English director, who filmed Universal's "Waterloo Bridge," at Cole's theatre this week end, is Hollywood's champion of "debunking the English pictures" and sincerely avers that "Waterloo Bridge," like "Journey's End" presents authentic Englishmen and authentic England. "Waterloo Bridge," the screen version of the sensational Robert E. Sherwood play, which brings Mae Clarke, Kent Douglas, Doris Lloyd, Frederic Kerr and Bettie Davis to Cole's screen is one of the best reported pictures of the season.
